Titles in the Research Collection of Children’s Literature at the State Library, and the state wide public library collections.

Books about Aboriginal people were first written by Europeans telling their story, and then by Aboriginal people. Some are dreaming stories, some are stories with other themes. Teachers using these titles need to take into consideration the context in which the books were written.

In Reading Race: Aboriginality in Australian children’s literature, Clare Bradford discusses how different representations of Aboriginal people have helped to colour the attitudes, beliefs and assumptions of different generations of Australians. In 1994, Margaret Dunkle collated a bibliography of resources in Black in Focus: a guide to Aboriginality in literature for young people.

The titles mentioned below can be found both at the State Library and in public libraries around the State by searching the State Library catalogue at www.slwa.wa.gov.au. Searching can be by title, or by using the following subject headings:

Aboriginal Australians – Folklore
Aboriginal Australians – Juvenile Literature
Aboriginal Australians – Juvenile Fiction

You could also search for titles published by Magabala Books and Black Ink Press, using the publishers as a Keyword search.

The list below shows some of the titles by or about Aboriginal Australians. There will be a brief summary of the story in the catalogue entry.

The names in bold are Aboriginal authors or illustrators. Those that are marked with an *asterisk are from Western Australia.
