PREFACE

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow." The war between the Allies and Germany ceased on 11th November, 1918.

In placing before the public the 1919 issue of the Western Australia Post Office Directory, the Publishers are pleased to say that, although the paper shortage has been of serious moment to Australia, inasmuch that it affected numerous publications, our foresight in ordering large quantities of paper well in advance prevented any cessation or delay in the 1919 issues of our Directories, and the present issue of the Western Australia Post Office Directory proudly sets out on its mission of usefulness to subscribers and advertisers and the public generally after four years and five months of the greatest war in history.

Each year of the war the Western Australia Post Office Directory has been issued without delay or interruption, and during this period it has had the fullest support of its subscribers and advertisers.

The Publishers desire to express their keen appreciation and thanks for this magnificent support.

As usual the whole of the State of Western Australia (an area of 975,920 square miles) has been compiled, and every care has been taken to ensure accuracy.

Alteration of names of streets.—The names of a number of streets in Victoria Park were changed in September, 1918, and the new names will be found in the present issue—the old name directing attention to the new one.

The Publishers again take this opportunity to express their thanks to the Deputy Postmaster-General, the various Postmasters, Officials of Government Departments and others who have rendered such hearty and invaluable co-operation and assistance.
