Tom Stannage
ACC 9784A/1.5

Tom Stannage was born in Subiaco, Western Australia, in March 1944. His mother, Helen Eakins-Stannage, née Masters, was originally from Northam and his father, the Rev. James Eakins-Stannage was an Anglican cleric born in the UK, his older sister, Miriam Stannage (1939–2016), was a prominent artist.

Stannage grew up in the Perth suburbs of Subiaco and Bassendean and attended Midland Junction High School and Perth Modern School, before studying history at the University of Western Australia (UWA). He married fellow UWA student Maria Fillanich. They lived in England from 1967 as Stannage completed a doctorate at Cambridge University. Stannage returned to Perth in 1971 to take up a position lecturing in history at UWA and was later appointed Professor of History there.

During the early 1960s, Stannage played Australian rules football in the Western Australian National Football League (WANFL) and was a member of the West Australian Football League (WAFL) board of directors in 1986.
