

AUSTRALIAN NAVY CADETS, WESTERN AUSTRALIAN DIVISION

Naval cadets started in Western Australia in 1953 as the Sea Cadet Corps which was sponsored by the Navy League. The first metropolitan unit was TS Creswell and this unit was based at HMAS Leeuwin. The "Australian Navy Cadets" (previously known as RANR Cadets 1950-1973), were merged with the Australian Sea Cadet Corps on 1st January 1973. The new body was named the Naval Reserve Cadets (NRC) and in 2001 the name reverted to Australian Navy Cadets, the original 1907 title. There are a number of Cadet 'Training Ships' located in Western Australia, in both the metropolitan area and the regions.
