

SISTER KATE'S CHILD & FAMILY SERVICES, later known as MANGURI

Katherine Mary Clutterbuck, (1860-1946), better known as Sr. Kate, was an Anglican nun who commenced the first cottage home for part Aboriginal children at Queens Park, W.A. in 1934. Sr. Kate's orphanage operated from 1935.

When she died in 1946, the administrative responsibility was handed to a group of trustees, who in turn handed the responsibility to The Board of Social Services of the Presbyterian Church. In 1977 the Presbyterian Church became part of the Uniting Church and all properties of Sister Kate's were vested with the Uniting Church. From 1977 until 1980 Sister Kate's was managed by a Board. In January 1981 this Board gave way to a Management Committee, which in turn was accountable to the Board of Child and Family Care Services of the Uniting Church.

Manguri was incorporated in 1995 to provide residential child care and family support for Indigenous children and families. In 2002 after experiencing considerable financial difficulties and problems with management of the services, Manguri's funding was ceased and the cottages closed.
