

GOOD SAMARITAN INDUSTRIES. UNITING CHURCH

Good Samaritan Industries originated in 1958 with Rev. Ralph Sutton, as a programme of the Wesley Central Methodist Mission in Western Australia. Launched in November 1960, it was a programme to employ people with disabilities, in a sheltered workshop situation, but at award wages. Another of its aims was to train or retrain its employees to get work in the public work force.

In the 1980s control was largely assumed by the Uniting Church Synod of Western Australia and on 30 May 1993, Wesley Uniting Church Mission officially handed over control to the abovementioned Synod.
