Sharing our multicultural heritage: many cultures,

many languages

Western Australia is home to people from many cultures who speak more than 240 different languages.

Language is vital to understanding and sharing the culture and history of multicultural groups.

The State Library of Western Australia collects and shares multi-lingual resources such as newspapers, oral histories, films and documents that tell the stories of Western Australia's diverse communities.

With support from the Office of Multicultural Interests, more of these resources are now available online for teachers and learners of community languages and all people interested in our multi-cultural history.

Languages other than English

The State Library keeps documentary resources associated with Western Australia. This includes material associated with communities that have come to live in Western Australia from all around the world, many of whom speak a language other than English. The State Library has developed this educational resource in partnership with the Office of Multicultural Interests.

Education Resource Goals

- To support teachers and students of languages other than English in finding resources in the State Library collections.
- 2. To provide suggestions on how to use free resources from the State Library collection to teach and learn a language.
- 3. To provide suggestions on how to use free resources from the State Library collection in teaching and learning about the historical background for different language communities in Western Australia.

There are a range of resources in languages other than English available online from the State Library including eBooks, print material, newspapers, oral histories, film and photographs. The Community Languages Collection also provides an extensive collection of resources in over 40 languages and is located on Level 1 at the State Library.

She is her/his (mother/daughter/wife/sister/granddaughter/aunt/niece/cousin/daughter-in-law/goddaughter).

He is her/his (father/son/husband/brother/grandfather/uncle/newphew/cousin/son-in-law/godson).

Practice describing feelings

- Brainstorm words for feelings with the students and use the photographs to discuss feelings. She/he is feeling (tired / happy / ready / amused / confident / curious / anxious / embarrassed / bored / confused / depressed / disappointed / keen / energetic / frightened / frustrated / furious / guilty / hopeful / humiliated / hurt / ignored / important / interested / irritated / jealous / lonely / angry / peaceful / playful / proud etcetera).
- Build sentences describing feelings and a short story on why the person is feeling that way eg He is worried because he lost his homework.

Using Newspapers

- Access a newspaper electronically via the State Library e-Resources, see separate instructions at the end of this document (State Library membership required).
- Ask students to identify letters, words or phrases in the text.
- Select passages of the text to read out aloud to students, or ask students to read passages selected text.
- Find a small article or advertisement. Students can work in pairs or small groups to circle recognisable words and make new sentences from the words.
- Ask students to make an advertisement.
- Remove the headline from an article and ask students to read the article and create a new headline.
- Opy a range of articles and separate the headlines. Mix up the headlines and the articles and ask students to match headlines and articles

Expand your vocabulary

Ask students to browse through the newspaper, find five unfamiliar words and look up their definition. Have each student create and illustrate a dictionary page containing the five words and their meanings. Combine the pages into a classroom dictionary. In a variation of this activity, you might ask students to look in the newspaper for any of the following:

- Words containing a particular vowel sound or consonant blend
- Compound words
- Words in the past, present, and future tenses
- Possessives
- Plurals
- Distribute headlines from less prominent stories and ask students to choose one and write a news story to go with it. When the stories have been completed, provide each student with the story that originally accompanied the headline.
- Create a newspaper clipping fodey.com
- Publish your own news ... students can work together to create their own newspaper/brochure or poster readwritethink.org or homemade-gifts-made-easy.com

Activities for community culture and history in Western Australia

An understanding of the historical background of Arabic speaking migrants in Western Australia can provide context for students learning an Arabic language in Western Australia. The State Library of Western Australia collects and preserves documentary resources associated with Western Australia. The State Library collections include materials relating to the history of the Arabic speaking community in Western Australia and encourage the use of these materials in sharing stories.

Materials include photographs, film, oral history recordings, community newspapers and other documents.

- Provide print outs or digital copies of the photographs selected and text on the history of Arabic speaking migrants in Western Australia. Ask students to retell the history using the photographs and any other relevant media they find. Students can use different presentation techniques such as a traditional poster, making a digital Popplet, Power Point presentation or a Prezi presentation. Students may enjoy working in groups or pairs during these tasks.
- Older more proficient students may like to create a version of the history summary below for an Indonesian audience, perhaps creating a brochure that includes newspaper articles, images and newspaper reports relating to the time.

Migration

Iraqi immigrants have a long history of refugee resettlement, in fact, the last four decades Iraqi refugees, particularly the Shia Arab and Kurdish people have been leaving their homeland in search of peace and opportunity. The era that brought about the highest rate of Iraqi re-settlers was due to the Gulf War of 1990-1991, most commonly called first Gulf War Iraqi refugees. Iraqi immigrants have significantly increased over the years; in the 1974 Australian census there were a documented 2,273 Iraqi-born persons, whereas, by 1996, the count raised to 14,019. 4.1% of the 1996 number residing in Western Australia. It should be noted that it was not until 1995 that some persons from Iraq are recognised as entering Australia as illegal immigrants.

In 2016, Western Australia was home to:

- 3,432 people born in Iraq
- 14,132 people who spoke Arabic at home
